TO TRAVEL A MILE IS TO

Ed Sykes represents Evergreen in the miles he runs.

Linda Kilp, '66, returns to her Alma Mater as Miss Washington. Last year she represented Washington state at the Atlantic City, New Jersey pageant.

l. to r.: D. Perry, C. Kometz, H. Hamlin, C. Leggot, L. Heighton, and K. Nelson debate current issues.

PROLOGUE THE FUTURE

Cross country runners cover old and new trails.

Life

Let me but live my life
From year to year
Not hurrying to, nor turning from
The goal;
Not mourning for the things
That disappear in the dim past,
Nor holding back in fear
From what the future veils,
But with a whole and happy heart,
That pays its toll
To youth and age,
And travels on with cheer.

So let the way wind
Up the hills or down,
O'er rough or smooth,
The journey will be joy;
Still seeking what I sought
When but a boy;
New friendship, high adventure,
And a crown,
My heart will keep the courage
Of the quest,
And hope the road's last turn
Will be the best.

. . . Henry Van Dyke

Miss Nightingale and students discuss the use of satire in creative writing.

The glorious years of Rome were relived at the Latin Club Ban quet.

TIME NOW MOVES SO SLOWLY

Endless "measures" of school spirit will continue to ring in the ears of many students.

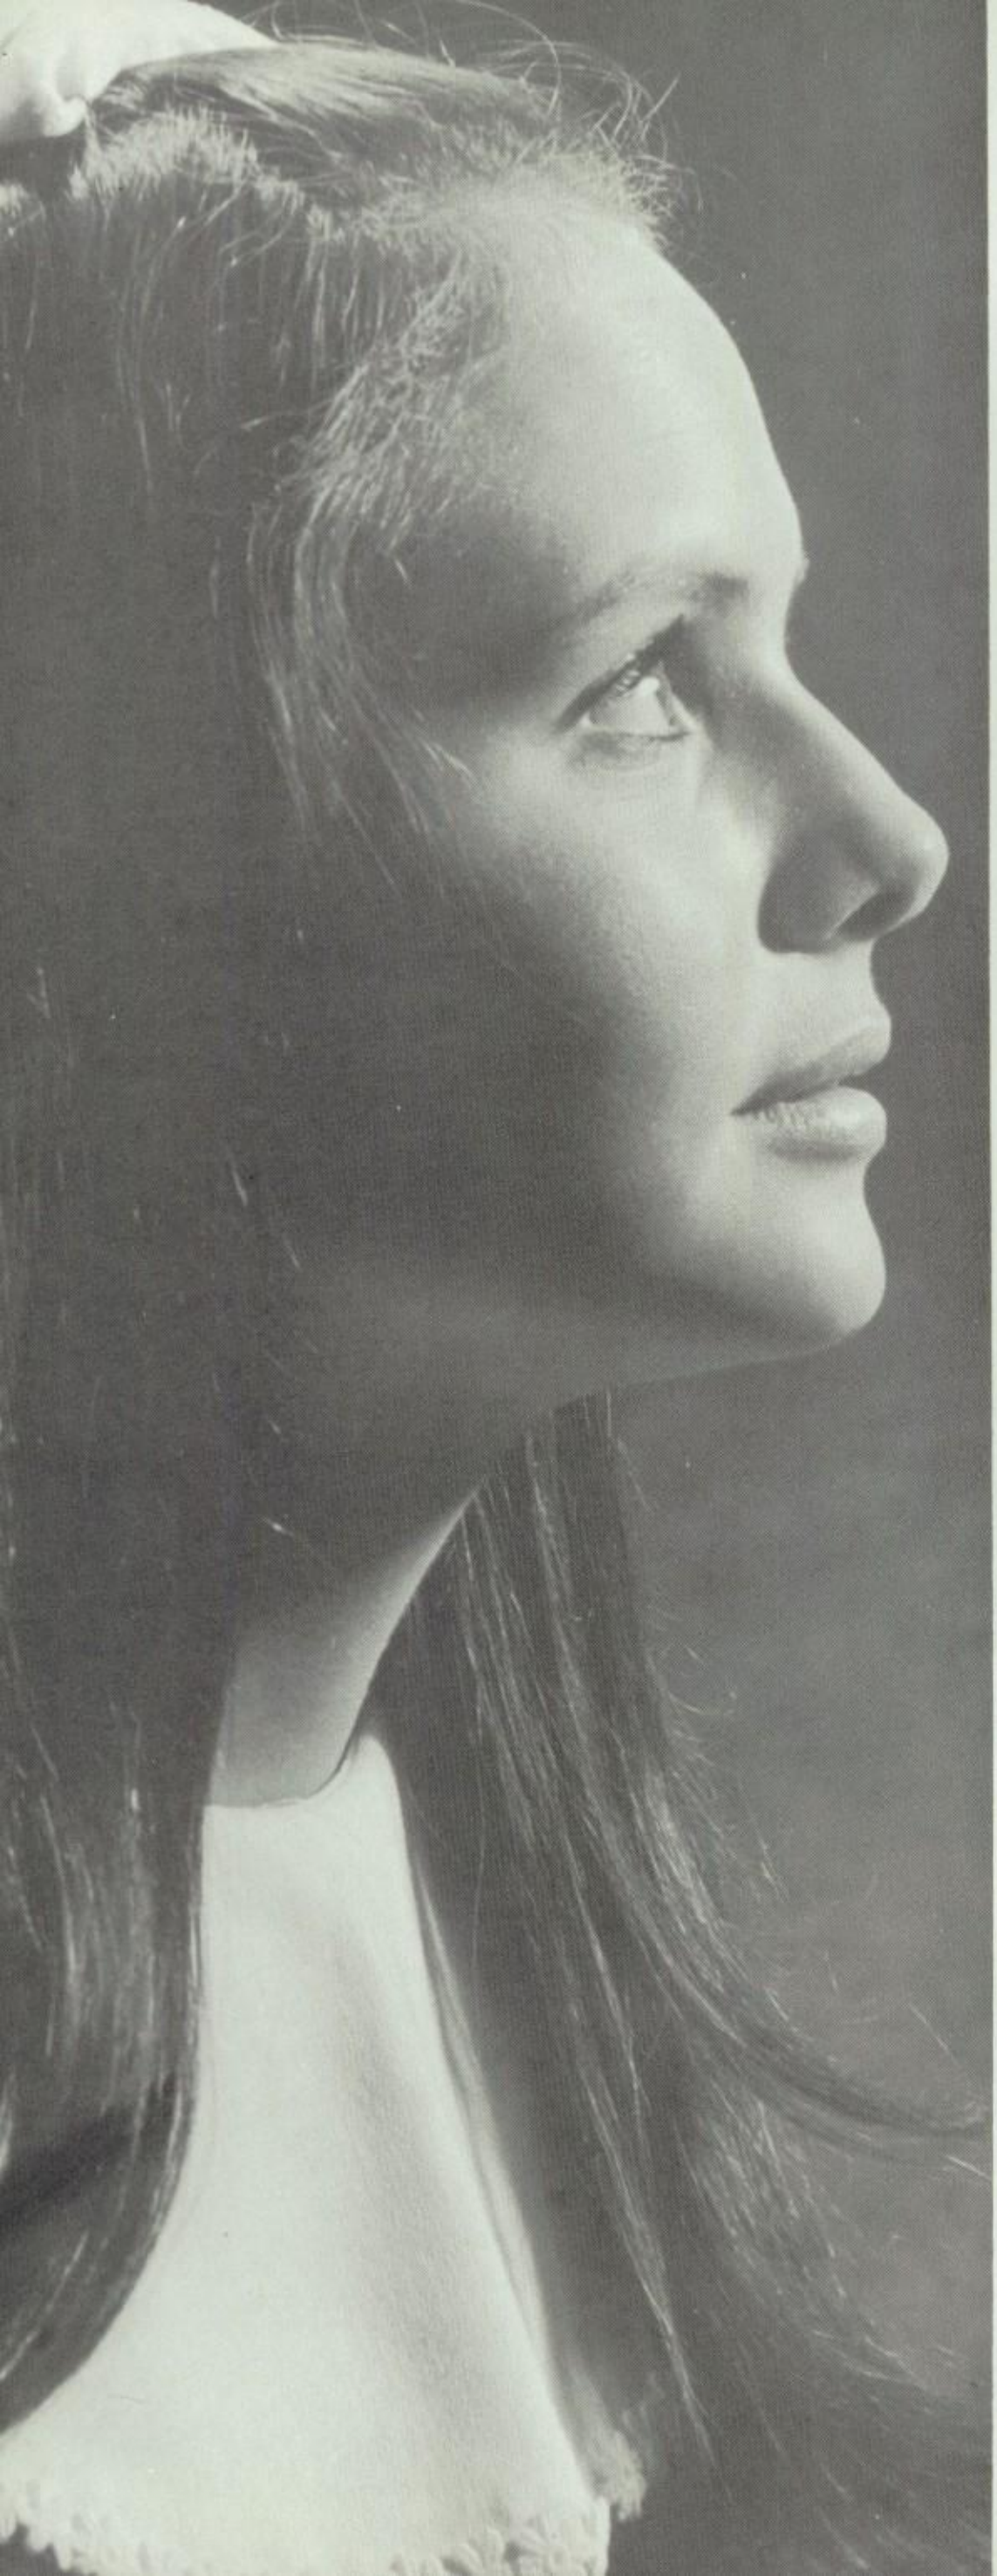
The banquet was fit for Caesar and the members of the Latin Club.

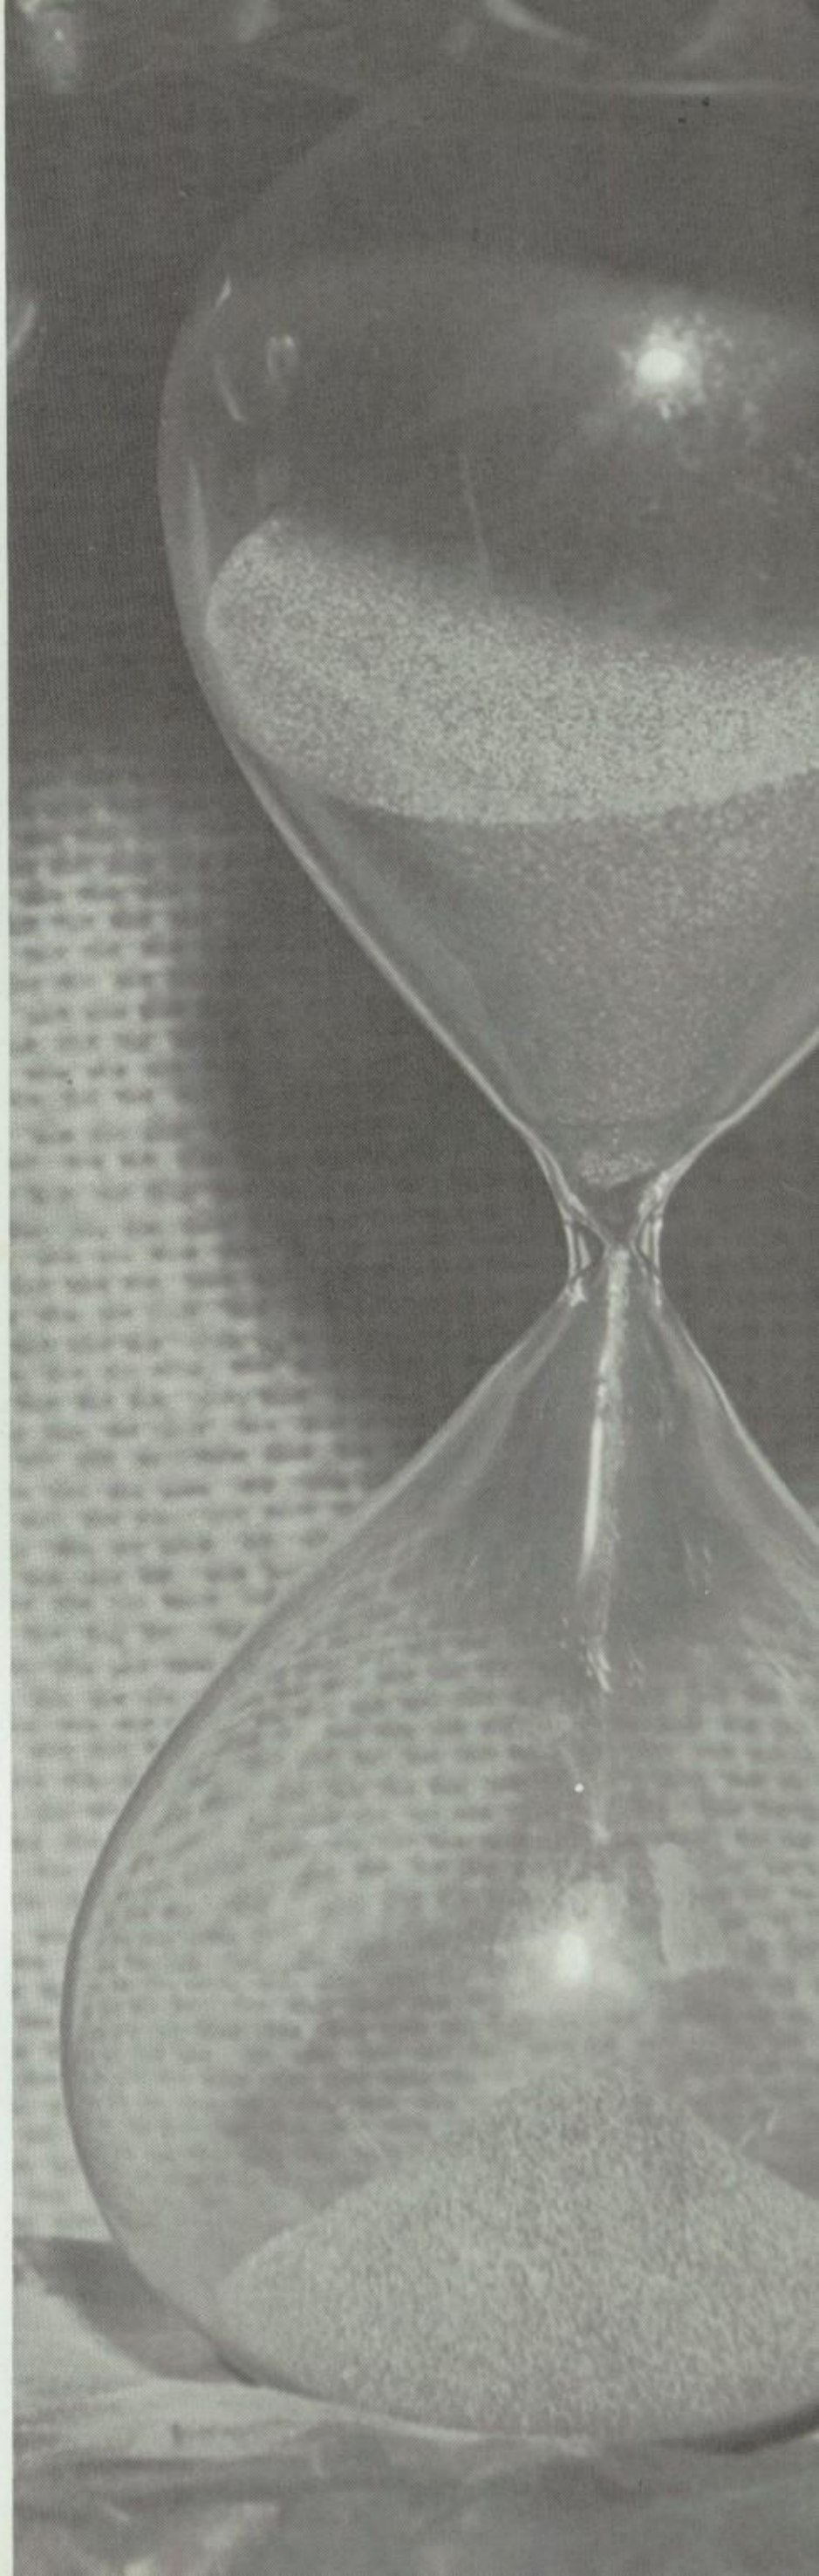
BUT YET SO FAST

Mrs. Virginia Nerheim.

One prepares and makes her own future. Mrs. Nerheim's determination has added much to the lives of her students. Her decision to become a teacher has carried her down the path of adviser for the Annual, the Timberlines, Latin studies, and adviser of the Philhellenes, the Latin Club.

Was Mrs. Nerheim aware of what her decision to become a teacher included? Had she planned on twenty-six years of teaching resulting many times in frustration and unrequited thanks? She was aware, but counts the experiences as a challenge. Her sensitivity to the unknown exists in everlasting amounts. Because of her willingness to plunge into today and tomorrow with renewed and overflowing strength, Evergreen dedicates this annual to acknowledge her past and future accomplishments.





Grains of time are reminders of the endless milestones to pass and to conquer. Lives are merely different dreams that develop into reality and carry each person down a chosen path. Time allows a probing into the depths of the unknown. The destination of our far off dreams depends upon the decisions we make today.

Hourglass - Mrs. Leroy V. Martenson

Joyce Friedman, Phil Johnson, Mark Mortenson and Patricia Lamb relive the imaginative existence in the "Time Tunnel".

TO GRADUATE FROM SOMETHING OLD TO

Craig Berry kicks the ball "Up, Up and Away" as Dan Weiss places.

Time is everlasting for three years
You don't notice them
falling — the sand grains,
But they do.

They fall faster and faster
Till time runs out and life is a sea
And you are the ship.

A ship filled with knowledge, curiosity, and a Fiery drive that will power your journey.

. . . Patrick Robinson

Queen Sonia Maudslien reigns in pomp and splendor at Homecoming.

OMETHING NEW IS A NEVER-ENDING PROCESS

STUDENT GOVERNMENT

An active student council was successfully led by Chet Lackey, Keith Mayo, Mike Shiogi, Linda Craft, and Lois Francois. The council's first objective was to develop a better relationship between the students and the administration. With this accomplished they rebuilt the school's constitution and submitted it for approval to the Constitutional Revision Convention held in December.

Chet Lackey, as A.S.B. president, headed all the Student Council activities. He organized and supervised all functions performed by Student Council.

UT ITS EXPERIENCES ARE NEVER TOLD

Phil Johnson, Mark Mortenson, Wayne Hudgins, and Tom Shepherd all agree that beauty is only skin deep.

THE CHILD'S APPEAL

I am the Child.

All the world waits for my coming.

All the earth watches with interest to see what I shall become.

Civilization hangs in the balance,

For what I am, the world of tomorrow will be.

I am the Child.

I have come into your world, about which I know nothing.

Why I came I know not;

How I came I know not,

I am courious; I am interested.

I am the Child.

You hold in your hand my destiny.

You determine, largely, whether I shall succeed or fail.

Give me, I pray you, those things that make for happiness.

Train me, I beg you, that I may be a blessing to the world.

DISTRIBUTIVE EDUCATION

When not running the school store, the Distributive Education class learns more advanced techniques of a retail business.

The Distribution class listens intently as Mr. Ellis advises them on marketing principles.

The Distributive Education class learns modern selling skills and puts them to practical use operating the school store. They use the profits from this effort for an annual banquet for employers. In preparation for Distributive Education, the members take Distribution, a course that teaches the fundamentals and techniques of handling a small retail business.

Officers include pres., Dennis Stubbs; vice-pres., Pete Pappas; sec.-treas., Kathy Talbot; historian, Jodie Hopperstad; governor, Sandy McEwen; parliamentarian; Ken Keogh; reporter, Steve Barbee.

Walter Carsten, Principal

The title of vice-principal that Miss Garrison carries daily involves much more than merely a job. Her involvement in each student's life marks memorable thoughts of his stay at Evergreen.

As principal of Evergreen, Mr. Carsten lends a hand to students in many different areas. He takes on the radiant role of advisor and counselor as he assists Kerry Houser.

Delores Garrison, Vice-Principal

What is Education?

Education is said to be the cultivation or development of the faculties and powers.

Who are Teachers?

Teachers are the body of Evergreen's faculty seeking to cultivate or develop the faculties and powers of their students. They accomplish this in many different ways and through many different approaches. The skills with which teachers work daily are meant to stimulate the growth of Evergreen students both physically and mentally.

Who are Counselors?

Counselors guide and direct students in the way suited for each individual. With experience and advice, Evergreen students will be able to apply education to themselves.

What is Service?

Service is Evergreen's office and cafeteria personnel and custodians who add to the education of students. Development of the faculties and powers also is promoted by an enjoyable environment and nourishment. Without a pleasant surrounding or sufficient energy to act on, education would not be fully complete.

Not only is it the student's obligation to search for material in books, but Mrs. Pat Hook, assistant to the librarian must research for card catalog information. Books are a tool of progress.

Past, present, and future are combined into one as Mr. Berson illustrates with the aid of a map, how past U.S. History can relate to us today and tomorrow. This junior class will have a better foundation for contemporary problems as seniors with their U.S. History background.

In Mr. Taeschner's technical theatre class, students learn the mechanics of theatrical production. Attentive Patricia Lamb and Donna Bradley watch carefully as Mr. Taeschner demonstrates work on props-stripping a chair.

Randie Brown gains new insights in typing because of Mr. Heppner's instructions. To be able to type is a big step towards better grades and success in the future.

Individualized instruction is used to increase reading skill with the help of programmed materials. Mrs. Weise carries on in her English class, aiding her students, Fritz Rathke, and Marie Juneau.

Mrs. Richardson obtains the material needed for her senior English class as Leah Sample waits for her daily journal. The journal each student is compiling is a record of his own experiences, feelings, and opinions.

Passing through . . .
Passing on,
High school is a stopover
on the journey.
The things you do,
The people you know,
These are the meaningful ones.
The fading laugh,
The well-laid plans,
all are a part.
Having fun . . .
Helping friends . . .
Making the change
is easier with action.
Living later,
beyond
The three beginning years,
Action makes it better.

Patience, understanding, and an open mind make up the man, Mr. Bronson — the backbone of Instrumental Music.

Among the accomplishments of the Evergreen High School Band in 1967-1968, was the trip to Victoria for the Canadian holiday on May 22. Their objectives were to compete with other bands and to give the band members an opportunity to become acquainted with people from another country. Hard work, patience, and a stomach for chocolate candy all succeeded in making a marvelous opportunity possible.

Besides Victoria, the Band was able to participate in four school concerts, three contests, and were able to sponsor the talent show on April 18. During the fall the Band played the Sandpoint Naval Air Station and received a plaque for their performance.

In February a proposal for new Band uniforms was put before the Student Council and passed. The new uniforms are for indoor and summer weather activities while the old uniforms are now for outdoor performances. In all, it can be summarized as a very active and successful year for the Instrumental Music Department.

Thanks to the Band for their job well done in helping make Evergreen a successful functioning body.

There are many ways that one can express himself. Singing is one of these major modes of self-expression. Under the vocal divisions of classes more opportunities are available to the students to develop vocal interest. The Chanteurs were divided into three smaller groups which met twice a week under a group leader. A folksinging group was developed from the choir members and a recorder consort group from the interested A.S.B. members.

In the middle of March the Chanteurs were able to attend the chorale and ensemble contest for the league and received a top rating.

One of the major projects of the Madrigals was to make costumes for their group. Designs and a large portion of the work on these costumes was done by an alumna of Evergreen, Miss Jeanette Eastman.

Life from the 1800's was revived November 9, 10, and 11 by Evergreen Players while, at the same time, history was being made. The play, Charley's Aunt, established an overwhelming attendance record — one that surpassed the attendance record of all Evergreen's previous plays. Done in the round, the humor and the comedy performed delighted the audiences. It is the first time this type of comedy has been presented at Evergreen.

NATIONAL FORENSIC LEAGUE

Debators continually search for new and better material in order to improve themselves as speakers and citizens.

A debator learns to be thorough and accurate. He learns to analyze and learns the need to prove his statements, as well as to demand the same proof for the statements of others. He learns to think under pressure, to "use his head," and to make decisions quickly and accurately. Lastly, debate is a program designed to enable human beings to reach one another in order to prevent misunderstandings.

Constructive criticism is contributed by Chuck Leggott, Mr. Saylor, Caroline Scott, and Diane Perry.

Results of a debate tournament were tabulated by Hatti Hamlin, Rick Morrow, and Greg Shaw.

Chuck Leggott, Caroline Scott, Diane Perry, Carol Kometz, and Lonnie Heighton prepare for victorious results.

Chuck Leggott and Caroline Scott attempt to convey their opinions to others.

Coach Brigham and Bill Fisher talk over strategy.

This meeting is called to order.

Evergreen's Wolverines played under the direction of Charles Brigham, who, in his first year as head coach, instilled great pride in the team. Pride was the quality the team strived for in their activities in the surrounding communities. The team showed great pride in the first morning of practice before school opened until the final gun of the Glacier game.

The Wolverines' record was not indicative of the kind of ball played by the team. With an offense that never got on track, the Wolverines could not develop a scoring punch. However, in the area of defense, where the game counts, the Wolverines were a team which was feared by every opponent.

Roger Darling speaking at annual football banquet.

The Federal Way game, the first game of the season, foretold the season's outcome. The team was hampered on offense by fumbles, pass interceptions, and the general inability to move the ball on the crucial plays. With an offense that could not hold on to the ball for its fair share of the playing time, the defense was hard-pressed to stop the opposing teams offense throughout the game.

The next two games against the two powerhouses of the Southern Division, Franklin Pierce and Puyallup, were probably the best games played. These games displayed the great defense and spurts of offense that Evergreen was capable of, but all the Wolverines could manage were two ties. In the next three games Evergreen physically beat its opponents, but only managed to win one of the games played. Evergreen's lone victory this year, Homecoming, proved to be the highpoint of the season. The team had the right combination of offense and defense to beat Mt. Rainier, 14-7.

MANAGERS

Evergreen suffered two defeats, one to Renton and the other to Kent, two of the better teams in the state. The Wolverines hit hard throughout both games, and showed great desire and pride. The last game of the season, Evergreen's defense again proved to be strong, but the team could not generate the offense and were defeated 14-0.

WRESTLING 1968

This year the wrestling team had a far more successful season than last year, its first year as a varsity sport at Evergreen. Such wrestlers as Terry Bouck, Steve Rice, Craig Slye, Mike Mertel and Eddy Beyers never failed to please the Wolverine fans.

The addition of Coach John Roberts to the wrestling staff increased greatly the coaching time to the individual wrestlers. John Roberts took over the J.V. coaching duties while Daryle Whitmore concentrated on Varsity duties.

Wrestling is an individual sport where the team score is derived from the individual matches. The team that gets the most points from the individual matches wins the meet. The team did not have the overall strength in all of the weight classes to win many meets, but the Wolverines always won individual matches at every meet.

Individuals like Chuck Leggot, Steve Rice, Eddy Beyers and Craig Slye went on to the district meet at Puyallup. Craig Slye took second in his weight clas which qualified him for State. At the state meet in Bellingham at W.W.S.C. Slye took fifth in his weight class.

Cross Country '67-'68

Evergreen's Cross Country team, coached by Mr. Don Swanson, had a very successful season. They placed seventh in the Edmonds Relay, third in the West Central District, second in the Puget Sound League, and ninth in the State "AA" Meet.

It takes a very determined and self-disciplined person to stay with a demanding sport such as Cross Country. Each member of the team showed tremendous spirit and pride.

EHS vs. Federal Way: The team's superior height and balanced scoring proved too much for the Eagles. All starters scored in the double figures, 58-45.

EHS vs. Newport: The edge at the end of the game was as close as the Knights were all evening, as the Wolverines made it look easy, 61-55.

EHS vs. Highline: Wolverines stretched to an early lead and built it into a commanding margin throughout the game, 68-59.

EHS vs. Glacier: The game had everything. Glacier fought back from behind to go into the lead, but the Wolverines came back to take it by 6 points, 58-52.

EHS vs. Tyee: The team started slowly but finally got on track and Keith Mayo had his season's high game of 29 points, 74-44.

EHS vs. Kent Meridian: Kent played slow-down ball but the Wolverines' shooting provided for an easy win, 56-36.

EHS vs. Renton: Evergreen beat Renton for first time in school's history and gave the Indians their worst defeat in 42 years, 72-38.

EHS vs. Highline: Highline's vain attempts to stop the Wolverines resulted in six players fouling out and leaving only four players on the floor at the end of the game, 68-34.

EHS vs. Glacier: The Grizzlies avenged an earlier loss. The Wolverines had cold spells when they could not buy a basket, 50-55.

EHS vs. Tyee: A slow game highlighted by Rick Reed's 21 points as the Wolverines walked away in the fourth quarter, 61-45.

EHS vs. Mt. Rainier: A slow game with the team missing many opportunities, but Steadman cashed in for 25 points, 63-51.

EHS vs. Renton: The team showed great firepower and Jack Steadman again hit for 25 points as the Wolverines held the Indians to 31, 59-31.

EHS vs. Kent Meridian: The championship of the northern division of the PSL resting on the outcome of the game the Wolverines played like champions and won it in the final seconds, 43-42.

EHS vs. Puyallup: Wolverines won the championship of the Puget Sound League as the Wolverines made it to State in '68, 65-67.

REGION I CLASS AA CHAMPIONS

Steadman drives for score.

After being declared champions of the PSL, the Wolverines entered the Region I tournament. The first game was with Evergreen Plainsmen of Vancouver. The tension could be felt by all as the game began. The teams battled to an 8-8 tie before the Wolverines broke away with eight straight points. This was the Wolverines game from that point on and sometimes they led as many as 16 points. The final outcome showed the Wolverines on top, 71-65. Jack Steadman was high with 21 points, next was Rick Reed with 19, and John Aumann with 16.

In the championship game for Region I the Wolverines clashed with the Snohomish Panthers. Close scoring prevailed during the first half and ended 35-29 in Evergreen's favor. The third quarter started with twelve straight points for Evergreen, and with the Panthers now trailing, they were forced to play an overly-aggressive game, which finally accounted for 32 points for the Wolverines. The final score of 72-57 sent Evergreen into the State finals.

TEAM PLACES THIRD

Lincoln of Tacoma came to the Coliseum as somewhat of a "Cinderella" team by having dumped number-one-ranked Aberdeen the week before. They also brought with them high spirits which proved to be fatal to the Wolverines chances.

In the first half, Lincoln was hot from the outside, while Evergreen was cold and showed lack of aggressive defense.

In the second half the Wolverines showed new life and came within one point of Lincoln on two occasions. However, the spirit that Lincoln had built up was too much and they held on for a 64-62 victory over Evergreen.

The consolation game with Ballard evidenced the pride the Wolverines had instilled in their team early in the season. Bouncing back from the night before the Wolverines played like the team the rooters had cheered all season.

The game was highlighted by aggressive rebounding and deadly foul shooting. The Wolverines tallied 61 rebounds to Ballard's 39 and again gained 32 points from the foul line. Consistently the score was tied until the Wolverines broke away in the fourth quarter and went on to win 76-72. For the first time in the history of the school, Evergreen entered State tournament and placed third.

INTRAMURALS

Many Evergreen boys and girls have found an interest in Evergreen's Intramural program. Intramurals includes not only individual efforts but team efforts also. Some of the activities students participate in are; basketball, gymnastics, weight training, badminton, volleyball, and field hockey.

HIGHLIGHTS
1967 — 1968

Thoroughly intrigued, spectators "watch" the football game.

Miss Garrison's work is never done.

Alan Gunderson, senior, said good by to Bob Barton when he retired April 1. Tim Timblin, senior, pushed his cart down the last hallway.

Mr. Barton, always there, when he could be, Mr. Barton has been a friend to many. Always reliable, he never failed to do his best. With a ready smile and his broom in his hand he has seen students come and go. Through our success and our defeats he has been constant. Now he is leaving —

. . . Patrick Robinson

An attempt to measure Mr. Bob Barton's helpfulness would be futile. He has been a reliable friend and companion to the students of Evergreen for the past nine years. He has never failed to help those who have needed him and it is because of his many years of service that so many students and faculty have grown to know and enjoy him.

Many of the organizations would not have functioned as efficiently without his able assistance and fine cooperation. Our thanks seem so inappropriate to such a man and our words so inadequate. We can, however, thank him for the example he set for all of us. A life devoted to the well-being of others is worth living!

Neither out Far nor in Deep

The people along the sand
All turn and look one way.
They turn their back on the land.
They look at the sea all day.

As long as it takes to pass
A ship keeps raising its hull;
The wetter ground like glass
Reflects a standing gull.

The land may vary more;
But wherever the truth may be
The water comes ashore,
And the people look at the sea.

They cannot look out far.
They cannot look in deep.
But when was that ever a bar
To any watch they keep?

SLEEPING BEAUTY

Drama students performed the classic fairy tale, Sleeping Beauty, at Evergreen and neighboring elementary schools for a Children's Theatre production. Costumes were rejuvenated from previous plays. Phil Johnson directed the double-cast play with Karla Stakston and Nancy Shimeall in the part of Sleeping Beauty, Rick Snyder and Tom Knackstedt in the part of the Prince, Barb Uren and Chris Eller in the part of the Queen, Mark Nortenson and Jim Lemley in the part of the King, Liz Korol and Sue Hopkins as the bad fairy and Mark Sayers in the part of the attendant, Gore. Laura Knight was stage manager.

Queen Sue Ljubich, Senior Princess, Sue Pflueger, and Junior Princess, Ann Chalcraft reigned over the proceedings of the Junior-Senior Prom.

JUNIOR-SENIOR PROM

An East-Indian motif carried out the theme, Shalimar, that the juniors chose for the Junior-Senior Prom. In honor of the graduating seniors, the prom was held in the Snoqualmie-Nisqually rooms of the Seattle Center on May fourth from eight o'clock to midnight.

The background picture of the Taj Mahal behind the queen's throne added to the beauty of the coronation. At ten o'clock the Junior Class President, Chuck Legcraft, and Senior Princess, Sue Pflueger, made up the court of proud Queen Sue Ljubich.

The simplicity of the ballroom conveyed the elegance it held. Pastel mints, fruit punch, and forest green, lime green, and gold colors all added to the East-Indian decor. Music by The Casuals also added to the highlights of the evening.

Each couple was presented to a ballroom filled with an East-Indian atmosphere.

Nancy Arnold escorted by Wes Clingan, sparkled as she was crowned queen by Tom Lackey.

Determination set the sophomores aglow this year with "Barefoot in the Park." From a pink flamingo to the gazebo built by the fathers of the students, the sophomores displayed their imagination and creativity. Queen Nancy Arnold and her princesses, Rita Levang and Jill Addis, were the highlight of the evening and added to the vibrant and lively pink and green decorated room.

HONOR GRADUATES

The number of graduates this year has exceeded that of any previous class at Evergreen. Such an honor is worthy of praise, but is probably only appreciated in its fullness by the honor graduates themselves. Sacrifice of self and time, along with much initiative, has constituted the honor each of these twenty-nine graduates are receiving. They have set quite a precedent for others to follow.

Listed below are the honor graduates in alphabetical order:

Chet Lackey, displays the Olympian form with the discus.

Evergreen's 1968 track squad was highlighted by several outstanding individual performers. Forming the nucleus of the team were such athletes as George Casanova, who did most of the Wolverines' sprints; Jim Ennis, who jumped for height with and without a pole; Wayne Browne, a sub-two minute 880 man; and Chuck Varner, hurdler and long jumper. The distance runners had added strength in Vern Nelson, Jim Rice, and Lee Pflueger. Jay Hambly, Rick Jones and Craig Slye helped to further the sprinters' cause, while Terry Bouck, Larry Olsen, John Hautala and Chet Lackey put their muscle into the field events. Loren Vail, Dave Johnson, Ed Sykes, Bill Fisher, Greg Ellis, Frank Parente, Mark Shebly, Pat Reichenberger and Rick Reed were the promising underclassmen who rounded off the team.

BASEBALL

Evergreen's 1968 baseball team was powered by seven hard-working seniors. Dan Weise, quick shortstop; Jim Stretch, hustling second baseman; John Aumann, the teams number 1 pitcher; Steve Lauritz, quick outfielder; Keith Mayo, lanky first baseman; Brian Stowell, relief pitcher, and outfielder; and shifty deceptive Mike Robbins were the nucleus of the Wolverine effort. Coach Mullikin's man provided for an productive and exciting season. Mike Robbins set a team record for stolen bases, as a sophomore he tied the previous record of 5 bases. John Aumann pitched over half of the games sharing duties with Stowell and Criscione. Although their win loss record was not impressing, the Wolverines baseball team carried on the tradition of exciting, hard-played baseball.

TENNIS

Plagued by extraordinarily wet weather and multiple injuries to players, the tennis season resulted in defeats that were unexpected by pre-season ratings. The two victories were over Glacier with scores of 3-2, but the breaks seemed to go to the opponents as the majority of the losses were by a heartbreaking score of 2-3.

Bonnie MacGregor and Barbara Rice, sophomores, played their first year of competitive tennis alternating girls' doubles on the varsity and girls' singles on the junior varsity. Alice Textor, Lee MacGregor and Yvonne Visee, playing girls' singles and mixed doubles, respectively, were the stronger elements of the varsity team. Lee Chapman and Bob Pelland are completing their third year with the squad. This is Lee's second year on the varsity and Bob's first. Jim Masterman, representing the team in boys' singles, has come up from the junior varsity to the number two position on the ladder.

Coach Sanvitale has worked long and hard with her varsity team. Many of the members have been with her for three seasons. It is hard for a coach to say good-bye to those who turn out year after year, but she knows that these are the ones who can play good tennis and who will go on to meet greater competition.
